CAC's Summer Arts Camp a festive success!

Douglasville, Georgia – Friday, June 23rd was the finale and culmination of a week long Summer Arts Camp for 38 youngsters ages 7-11. About 150 parents and friends and neighbors attended and enjoyed a boisterous show and exhibit at Hunter Park where the camp had been hosted. Along with parents and families, Douglas County Commission Chair Dr. Romona Jackson-Jones and a contingent of about 25% of the CAC Board of Directors also attended.

The motif of the week-long camp was “What’s Behind the Mask: A Child’s Artistic Interpretation of Image” The teaching artists were Nicole Hale, Meagan Mayne, Courtnee Miles and Marion Greenwood and counselors Tabrieah Cobb and Chesity Hurston, all led by CAC Programming Coordinator, Joi Jamison. The staff took students on an artistic journey of self- discovery exploring visual and performing arts that was exciting, educational and interactive. The students of Summer Arts Camp had the opportunity to learn with each teacher and counselors for a little over one hour daily and on Friday presented a finale that completely “Wowed” the audience based on all that was mastered in just one week.

Funding for the Summer Arts Camp is generously provided by Greystone Power Foundation.
